ABSTRACT

Compiled by the Spanish Speaking Program staff in its efforts to make educational opportunities available to Hispanic Americans, the directory provides information on 231 scholarships, fellowships, stipends, traineeships and other financial assistance programs. These programs are offered by Federal agencies, post secondary education institutions, universities, and private associations and foundations. In addition, 56 training programs for minority students are listed. Each entry includes a brief description of the program, its eligibility requirements, and the address of who to contact for further information. The programs are in such areas as adult education, alcohol and drug abuse prevention, bilingual education, education for the gifted and talented children and youth, education for the handicapped, American Indian teacher education, public service professional education, educational and teacher exchanges, Upward Bound, vocational education, Women's Educational Equity, health education and services, child welfare, veterinary education, legal education, environmental education, community services, energy research and development, American Indian education, the arts and the humanities, the social sciences, aviation education, accounting, library science, medical and dental education, business, surveying, occupational therapy, podiatry, political science, journalism, interior designing, optometry, architecture, and foreign relations. Documents acquired by ERIC include many informal unpublished materials not available from other sources. ERIC makes every effort to obtain the best copy available. Nevertheless, items of marginal reproducibility are often encountered and this affects the quality of the microfiche and hardcopy reproductions ERIC makes available via the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). EDRS is not responsible for the quality of the original document. Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made from the original.

INTRODUCTION

This publication has been compiled by the Spanish Speaking Program Staff in its efforts to make educational opportunities available to Hispanic Americans.

This compilation provides information on scholarships, fellowships, stipends, traineeships and other financial assistance programs. These programs are offered by the U.S. Office of Education, other federal agencies, post secondary education institutions and private associations and foundations. In addition, there is a category for opportunities for minority students.

Each program is briefly described, indicates its eligibility requirements and provides information contacts.

All of the federal agencies are not listed in this booklet. Within the agencies listed here more training programs maybe available. For information on additional training programs, contact the Training Division of the appropriate federal agencies.
